

What people like and admire about me...

- I am honest and frank but thoughtful.
- I am good at bringing people together and am inclusive.
- I inspire people to follow and coach them to be their best.
- I can be relied on in a crisis and great at preventing one from happening.
- I am trustworthy.
- I love to provide support and care with a passion.
- I am fun to be with.
- I am a visionary leader.

What's important to me...

- Being busy and having lots to do.
- Being part of a team who share a common goal.
- Helping people stay self-motivated and resilient.
- Honesty – ensuring I am open to hearing the good and the bad so we can work out how to solve things.
- Building Trust in an organisation so that it can be its best.
- Ensuring no one feels left out. Inclusivity is not just a word it's a core of how I like to work.
- Being with family and friends.
- Taking time out to go on holiday .
- Spending alone time with my grandchildren.
- Being able to help people around me and ensuring my door remains open for them.

How to support me well at work...

- I am open and transparent, and I would like you to be with me
- I am as you find me, so please don't hold back if you want to ask me a question or pick my brain
- I love to hear what's going on as I am truly interested to hear.
- I love people sharing out of the box ideas to see whether they can become more focused.
- I hate people not telling the truth. There is always away to fix things or find away through. So don't hold back let's see what we can do.